DNR Commission Hears No-Kill Debate

The debate concerning no-kill rules for the mainstream AuSable continued last week at the Natural Resources Commission meeting Thursday in Gaylord.

Mike Wieland, representing more than 400 members of the AuSable River Property Owners Association, told the NRC his group opposed no-kill regulations for the AuSable "Holy Water" for five main reasons:

- 1) Fishermen who wish to harvest fish would have few access points left and trespassing violations would increase.
- 2) There are too many regulations already in effect on the AuSable system.
- 3) The no-kill study on the South Branch should be completed before another one is started.
- 4) A major concern is that scientific knowledge is not being utilized in the drafting of fishing regulations. Rather, it seems that public opinion via media exposure and the entry of private interest groups have detracted from a measured, scientific, common sense approach to the problem.
- 5) No-kill advocates are using a slot-size study somewhat out of context to support their view.

Wieland said the AuSable property owners recommend the DNR Fisheries develop a set of no-kill criteria similar to the techniques used to develop no-kill water in states such as Colorado. The criteria should be developed and then applied to a particular stream, rather than vice-versa, he said.

The group also supported a return to a limit of five fish a day with an eight-inch minimum limit on brooks and ten-inch minimum on browns and rainbows.

Additionally, the group suggested holding an open informational meeting in Grayling and recommended the NRC read the Clark and Alexander slot size report.

Rusty Gates, of Gates Lodge on the AuSable, said he had been asked to speak for more than 1200 concerned citizens and fly fishermen who use the system and signed a petition supporting proposed no-kill regulations for the Holy Water stretch of the AuSable.

"This is not a local issue," Gates said. "The Holy Water is known nationwide."

Gates said this great trout fishery has been in a state of decline for many years.

"The number of larger trout which provide by far the greatest contribution to quality in a sport fishery have steadily decreased in the last two decades," Gates said.

"The DNR tried to stop this decline first with a larger minimum size limit and then more recently with the so-called slot size limit," he said. "...These efforts have failed and the decline of this great fishery has continued."

"As more and more fishermen use these resources, it will become even clearer that effective protection is needed to ensure that a stable and even growing trout population is offered in these resources."

"As members of this commission, with a specific goal of conserving and improving our natural fishing resources, I appeal to you to seriously consider what I have to say. Let this decision, your decision, to support an effective catch-and-release management program be based on fact — not rumor, not opinions from localized factions, and certainly not by personal bias," said Gates.

"Instituting a catch-and-release regulation on the mainstream AuSable will pre-

Police Busy Following Lead in Bank Robbery

Local police and the FBI were still busy tracking down leads from a bank robbery Monday, July 8, at the Grayling State Bank mini-mall branch. A man carrying a single barrel sawed-off shotgun robbed the bank of $13,341.

Grayling City Police Chief Pete Stephan said on Tuesday, July 16, the FBI were investigating a report of suspects held in southern Michigan on a different charge of armed robbery. Grayling City Police were notified the suspects may be connected with the Grayling robbery as well.

Stephan said the only success local police and the FBI have had as of Tuesday was in eliminating false leads. Stephan said Canadian authorities were holding a suspect that the FBI checked out in connection with the Grayling robbery. That suspect was eliminated later as a possible suspect in the Grayling robbery.

The armed robber was described as 5'8" to 5'8" weighing 170 to 175 pounds with medium to heavy build. The white male had a southern accent and his age was guessed at from the 30's to early 50's. He was wearing a gray ski mask with black stripes during the robbery.

Grayling Teen's Rabbit Business is Booming

By Jon Thompson

For many parents, watching a Christmas present of two rabbits their daughter received turn into a collection of sixty rabbits in a short two and a half years would be a horror story.

Not for Karl and Karen Golinick, of Grayling. Their 14-year-old daughter Tina has turned the Christmas present of two rabbits into a success story.

Tina's Bunny Patch has 60 rabbits and her business is growing. She recently secured a commercial loan to build a 12 by 24 barn for the rabbits and her success at rabbit shows is mounting.

"We're very proud of Tina and what she has done," said Karen Golinick. "Throughout the year she spends an average of four to six hours a day with the rabbits and she still maintains a B average in school. She also assists in judging at shows and that's very rare for someone her age to be allowed to help in judging."

Tina raises mostly show rabbits. She can sell young rabbits with good show qualities for about $25 each. If the young rabbits don't have good show qualities, she usually sells them as pet stock before they are two months old.

"If I had my way, I'd keep them all," Tina said, "but it's hard to with the cost of feeding and finding the space."

Right now, all the money she makes from the sale of her rabbits she will use to pay off the loan for the new barn her father and friends are helping to build.

Tina's interest in rabbits as a hobby and business grew at an important time in her life. Tina is expecting surgery on her ankles and she has been forced to give up track, bowling, skiing, and cheerleading.

"She needed this hobby to relieve some of her frustration," her mother said.

Tina raises mostly Mini Lops and Netherland Dwarfs. One of her best show rabbits is a Netherland Dwarf who has won two titles or "legs." A rabbit needs to win three "legs" or titles to become a Grand Champion and Tina is looking forward to winning a Grand Champion award soon.

Mini Lops weight about 5½ to 6 pounds and are either solid or broken color. The Netherland Dwarfs are about two pounds and come in as many as 300 different colors.

Tina has won prizes throughout the state showing her rabbits. At one show, the judge offered her $200 for her best rabbit. When she declined to sell the rabbit, the judge told her she was smart and advised her not to sell the rabbit for even $500.

Tina is a member of the American Rabbit Breeders Association and belongs to four other national and state associations. She teaches a 4-H group about rabbits and wants to become a registration judge for rabbits. Rabbits can have their pedigree tattooed behind their left ear and have a register mark on their right ear. The pedigree tells about the rabbit's family and the register tells more about the individual rabbit.

"I love showing rabbits," Tina said. "It's so much fun. I want to continue doing it as long as I can. The day I finally do stop showing rabbits will be the day I can't move anymore."

County Fair Won't Switch '85 Location

At a special meeting of the Crawford County Fair Board held last Thursday, the board of directors voted unanimously to hold the 3rd annual County Fair at Hanson Hills despite some apparent objections raised by the state Attorney General's Office.

"We have a contractual agreement with Hanson Hills and the Grayling Recreational Authority and we can not consider relocating at this late date," said Jim Adams, publicity director and vice-president of the Crawford County Fair Board.

"We've worked hard for the past ten months organizing our fair, and although we intend to abide by the restrictions that are legally placed upon us with regard to potentially profit-making endeavors, we feel that the county fair is both educational and recreational in its intent and it is certainly a non-profit organization. Therefore, we're going ahead with our plans," Adams said.

The possibility of leasing state land through the county in order to alleviate this situation for future fairs was discussed at the recent meeting and fair board president is securing bids on surveying some potential sites.

Transient Merchant Law Enforced

Transient merchants — door-to-door salesmen and roadside sellers — are required to obtain a permit before selling products in Crawford County.

The Crawford County Prosecuting Attorney's office along with the Crawford County Sheriff Department and the Grayling City Police have announced they will be enforcing the local transient merchant statute. The statute requires the merchants to obtain a certificate before selling any products. The Prosecutor's office urges all city and county residents to ask any transient merchant to show their Transient Merchant Certificate. If the merchant will not or is unable to, residents are requested to call the sheriff dept. or the city police.

Assistant Prosecutor David Sabin said the Transient Merchants Certificate is a method for getting out-of-town merchants to register with the city or county. The merchants must also post a bond to obtain the certificate. Sabin says with these precautions, local residents have some recourse to find the merchant in case the product is unsatisfactory.

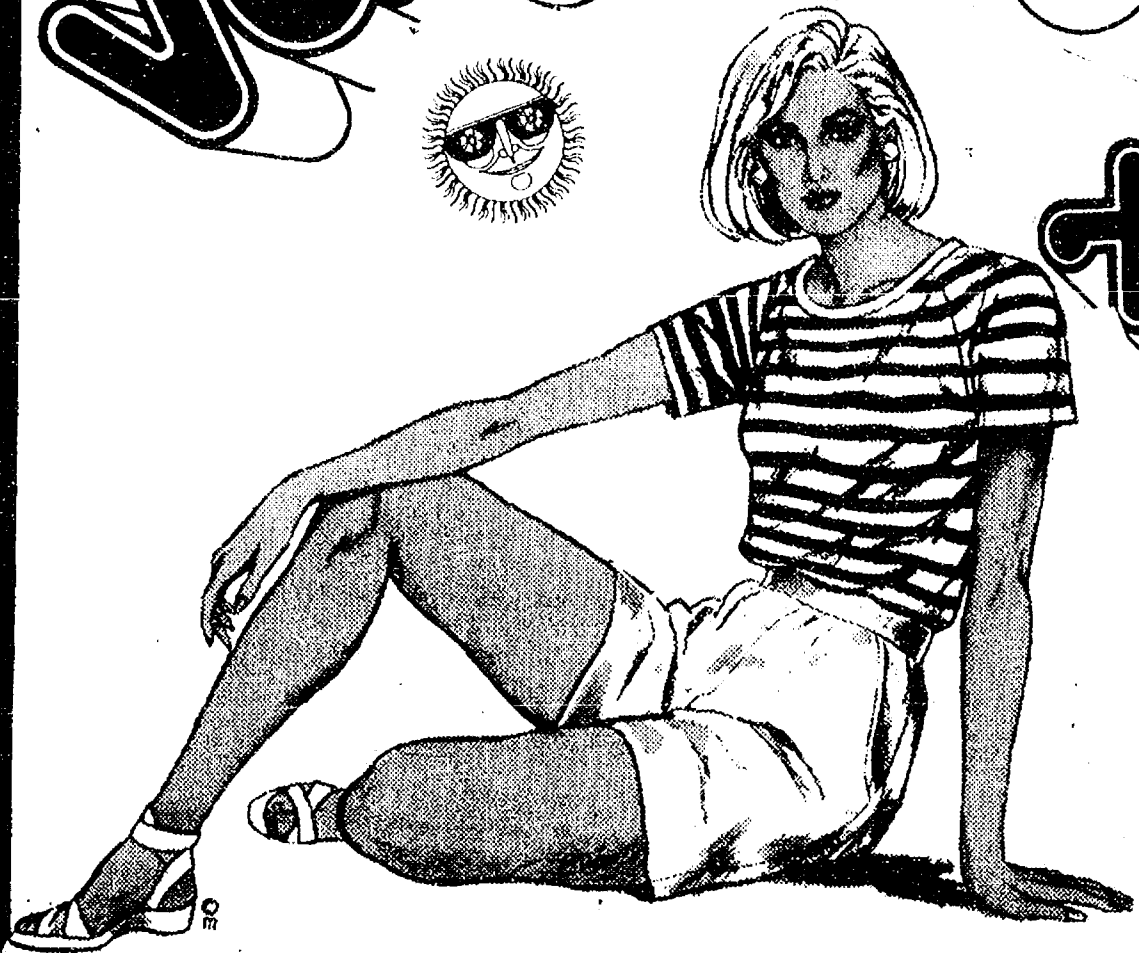

The transient merchant statute does not require local community groups such as Girl Scout or school organizations to obtain transient merchant certificates for their door-to-door selling.

From Our Corner...

Our condolences to Mr. Paul Lerg...

We heard late last week of the tragic event that entered his life...

We understand that Mr. Lerg lost his beloved (and slightly damaged) blue Monte through a holocaust just recently...we tried to contact him last Friday to purchase the door handle he had advertised in the Avalanche to replace the handle on Thelma's, also blue Monte but, he was on vacation...we would imagine hitchhiking...

We were talking to Mr. Lerg recently and he told me he was going to run his beloved into the ground...it only has a little over 100,000 miles he said and runs like a top...he must have drove to China last year when he went for a visit to get that many miles, even though it was just an infant, 1978 vintage...

And to think it had to burn up, before he could run the wheels off it...

We understand what really bereaves Mr. Lerg is the fact that he also lost a bet...seems as he had a bet with Kent Reynolds as to which one of their antiques would last the longest...the amount of the bet we couldn't find out...Mr. Lerg lost by two days...Kent's treasure met its demise through an accident...

We had planned on sending flowers but, decided against it until we talked to Mr. Lerg to see if he had any special insurance company he wanted contributions sent to...

Paul, I hope you had fire insurance...

I heard a remark the other day wondering if I really got paid to write this stupid column...the answer to those interested, yes...and I hope it can continue for 66 more weeks...when we started to write this turkey many moons ago it was not intended to be a literary masterpiece, and I really didn't plan on it being week in and week out...we have tried to hit on the lighter side of life from your normal columnist that you read in the daily papers...besides, we only have a high school education, plus our college years served in WW II...which was an education by itself...

We'll pause here for a commercial break...

There is a new book out entitled "Pigeon River Country; The Big Wild" authored by Gordon Charles, Outdoor Editor for the Traverse City Record Eagle...

The Pigeon River Country, of the northern Lower Michigan Peninsula is Michigan's largest, unspoiled wild area. It contains the biggest wild elk herd east of the Mississippi River, bears, bobcats, bald eagles and other rare or endangered animal and plant species plus lovely natural features...

The book is about the environmentalists who fought to keep the Pigeon Country as a wild refuge against the exploration of oil drilling that threatened the ruin of the area as it is, and not turn it into uncontrolled oil and gas drilling...

The author, Gordon Charles, has a career outdoor writer than spans over 35 years, besides his Traverse City position, he is a freelance outdoor/travel writer, his articles have appeared in numerous papers throughout Michigan...

If you like northern Michigan history, we are sure you would enjoy, "Pigeon River Country; The Big Wild"...it sells for $7.95, and the publisher is Eerdmans Publishing Co., 255 Jefferson SE, Grand Rapids 49503

Recently we have been receiving Letters to the Editor that are just strictly thanking individuals and businesses that have helped their cause...the Editor's Mailbox is not a vehicle for thanking people...that is advertising, and is paid for...the Mailbox is for the writers who wish to express their feelings on the general happenings in our county...we print these if they are not libelous...for those who wish to thank persons that have helped, may I suggest, a thank you note to each of them...

With that we will head for the wagon shed on this beautiful summer afternoon...goodnight T.J., Stefany and Amber, and to our few readers who are outside of our family, have a nice weekend...I can just vaguely remember February...

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

WASHINGTON' PRAYER FOR THE NATION

"Almighty God, we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in thy holy protection, that Thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government, and entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another and for their fellow citizens of the United States at large.

"And finally that Thou wilt most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with that charity, humility, and pacific temper of mind which were the characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed religion, and without an humble imitation of whose example in these things, we can never hope to be a happy nation.

"Grant our supplications, we beseech Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen."

George Washington intended this prayer to be circulated. He wrote it at Newburg on June 8, 1783, and sent it to the Governors of all the States. I copied it from the official Army and Navy Hymnal printed in 1942 by the United States Government printing office in Washington. Every soldier of World War II who attended chapel could read this prayer from page 29 of their Hymnal. Up to a generation ago, we were still not ashamed of our religious heritage in America.

Recently, the high court of our land struck down even silent prayer in our schools. The only people who can use the name of Jesus Christ today in our public schools without fear of rebuke are those secular humanists who use his name in vain, deny his morality, and ridicule his creation. The forms of prayer used by Eastern mysticism are still approved in many schools with credits being given for Transcendental Meditation.

Those of us who remind you of what is going on are branded "The New Right". The only "Right" we claim is the right of God, and the right of Holy Scripture.

Our "Right" is not new, it is even more than old, it is eternal. The opposite of "Right" is "Wrong", yet those who oppose God and His Word refuse to admit they are "Wrong". They speak of the "New Morality" in place of the old immorality. They speak of "liberation" in place of license. They justify all their wrongs in the name of personal rights and the separation of church and state. "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth." (Psalms 33:4). Everyone insists on being right and declaring God wrong. "Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; but the Lord pondereth the hearts." (Proverbs 21:2). America is today at the crossroads. We face either revival toward God and repentance from sin, or the certainty of God's judgment to destroy our nation. "...Let God be true, but every man a liar..." (Romans 3:4). Oh God!!! We beg for revival!!! Bring us back to Thee!!!

Strolling Around Town

By Fay

Besides the flowers and gardens springing up around town, older houses seem to be springing back to life with facelifts.

Extensive remodeling is progressing at the former Laura McLeod house on Park and Ogemaw, the Bob Cinciala home (former Souders house) on Maple Street has a new roof and more to come, while the Southwell home on Ogemaw Street has new white and blue siding over new insulation.

The Leon D'Amour home on Ottawa has flower beds in front, the Ockerman home on Maple has a new corner planter of ties and driftwood filled with purple petunias, Wargo's Milltown Manor have their planters full of flowers, Mrs. Gorney has her usual flowers, Bea Smith on Maple Street has flowers all around the house, the George Hillons on Chestnut have flowers and a nice vegetable garden (protected from the rabbits with a fence) and Mike Brady's (on Maple Street) corn was far more than "knee high by the 4th of July!"

On the Business Loop the Library has their well and a half barrel full of flowers; the Chamber of Commerce has flowers around their building and we missed (last week) the Hair Station and True Value Hardware on "main street."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this time to thank all of our friends and neighbors for their cards, prayers, and flowers during the loss of our loved one. Also a special thank you to Cecil and Clois Canfield for their home and the lovely luncheon they gave after the services for our family and to those who helped or gave food for the luncheon, to Sorenson's Funeral Home and Rick for his help, and Rev. Regan for his very nice service.

The Family of Bernice Cooper

Almanack

He gags on 'gag order'

by Richard Millman

WHEN A public official decides that all public comment from a particular agency must funnel through a single voice, usually the press is the loudest protester.

That may not have been the case recently when Michigan State Treasurer Robert Bowman decided that all statements to the news media about the Treasury Department would come only from Bowman or from a new appointee designated as a "public information officer."

Certainly the press didn't like it — but usually the working reporter will find a way to circumvent the restrictions and find out what he/she wants to know anyway.

AFTER THE recent order by Bowman, some telling criticism came from Clarence Lock, who spent 11 years as Michigan State Revenue Commissioner and 18 years before that as deputy revenue commissioner. In all, Mr. Lock had 39 years in public service before retiring.

As a reporter who covered the capitol when Mr. Lock was both deputy then commissioner, I can attest that he had excellent relations with the media. Reporters always knew that Clarence Lock was both open and honest and he knew what he was talking about — and those are qualities that endear any public official to the working press.

But Mr. Lock doesn't think too much of Mr. Bowman's new public information program, calling it a "gag order," which it is.

In a Letter to the Editor, Mr. Lock openly criticized Mr. Bowman's order, pointing out that in all his (Mr. Lock's) years of service, state treasurers never found it necessary to funnel public information through a single channel.

CONCLUDES Mr. Lock:

"In my 39 years as a public official, it was my observation that there were two duties of 'public information officers.' One, promote the political aims and ambitions of the department head and the administration he represents; and two, be sure that no information of a negative nature is leaked to the news media."

All too often, the Lock thesis of government public information program fits to a tee.

Generally speaking, my experience both as a reporter and in government indicates that a public official will do all right in media relations if he/she follows the guidelines Clarence Lock exhibited in his four decades of public service:

Know what you're talking about. Be open. Be honest.

YOU HAD TO be fascinated by the introductory paragraph in a recent Wall Street Journal editorial regarding the congressional process of supplemental appropriations, and specifically then-pending House action on a $14 billion supplemental appropriations bill.

The headline of the editorial was by itself enough to entice readership. It was titled: "Meat Loaf." The editorial began:

"...To understand Congress, you have to know how to make meat loaf.

"You don't make great meat loaf by just squeezing onions and stuff into a few pounds of packaged ground round. For great meat loaf, you need pork. You need beef and you need veal.

"You put all this raw meat into the top of a grinder and extrude it through the other end. Oh, yes you need fat. You have to include fat, and an egg, to hold all that muck together.

"Now, let's talk about supplemental appropriations."

HOW COULD YOU resist reading the rest of the editorial? Whoever wrote the above description of meat loaf is to be commended for an excellent, fresh approach to the usually difficult subject of government budgets.

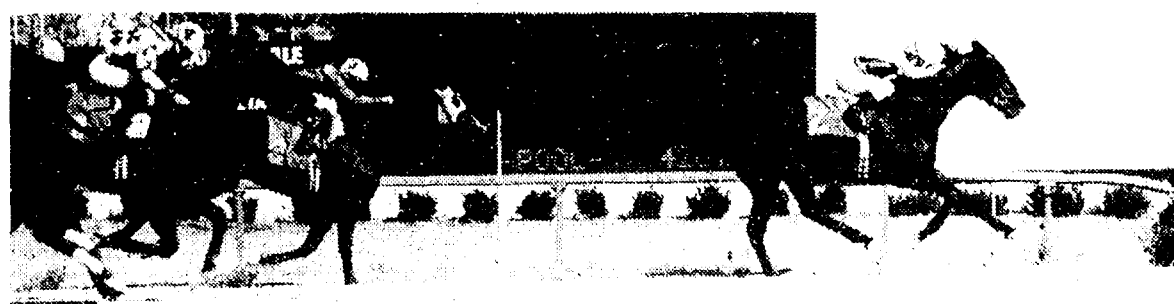

It recalls the old bromide, usually called into play about time the legislature is acting silly, or winding up a session, or both.

There are two things you don't want to watch being made, so the saying goes.

Laws and sausage.

And maybe, meat loaf, too.

Following a hard fought winter campaign, the British returned to Detroit this year and seized the Detroit race course. The re-capture was barely completed when another out-of-towner, Damon Thayer, center of photo, arrived on the scene.

Damon, a Grayling resident, established his beach head in the Publicity Department where he is an assistant to the head of publicity, Bob Raymond.

Graduating from G.H.S. on a Friday, Damon assumed his position the following Monday. His success at the new Ladbroke DRC should surprise no one. His talents as an experienced writer are put to good use typing news releases, short stories, and jockey profiles. This 18 year old's friendly, outgoing personality and love of thoroughbred race horses serve him in good stead in his new job.

In Grayling, he was a part-time D.J., in Detroit, tune to WWJ and you can hear him give the race results. It was only a little over a week ago when Damon was cavorting about the paddock with a prima ballerina from the Republic of China. Governor Blanchard received a formal invitation to attend the Michigan Mile, Michigan's richest race (over $150,000) and who do you suppose wrote and signed the invitation. You guessed it, it was Damon.

Bob Raymond is the head of publicity and Damon's boss. When asked about the Grayling lad, "he's working out real well here. We're very pleased with him."

As for Damon, "I love it here," he replied, "I don't know if it's the people, the horses, or just the overall atmosphere that I like the best. I feel right at home here." And home it will be for him until this Fall when he begins an entirely new, lifestyle as a student at Michigan State University. In the meantime, if you're looking for a good time at the races, give Damon a call.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

The Hartwick Pines State Park and the Grayling area have received a good piece of advertisement which will be seen nation and world wide. The National Geographic Society has recently published a beautiful book titled "America's Wild Woodland" in which we were given several paragraphs.

It is always interesting to work with such people and it soon becomes apparent just how professional they are shortly after their arrival. They were interested in many factors concerning the Virgin Pines and took more information than they used. The information they did use was returned to us for confirmation and even that was followed by a phone call. The result was a very nice write up on the park and the area. If you have the opportunity to obtain the book, I would urge to do so as it might be the basis or the reason for you to go visit another area. The important thing for us is that it will certainly bring people here who might not come otherwise.

Keep in mind there is a bird watch hike at 8:30 a.m. on July 12, 1985, from the porch of the Interpretive Center.

State Tax Revenue Would Increase Under Reagan Plan

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Dir., MPA

State tax revenue would grow an average 9 percent through 1990 if President Reagan's tax reform proposals are adopted by Congress and state tax laws remain unchanged, the Senate Fiscal Agency has reported.

The proposal would produce a total of $1,352.4 million in additional state income taxes over the five fiscal years, the report said.

The added revenue is due to additions to the federal adjusted gross income, upon which the state tax is based, such as higher capital gains and a portion of health insurance benefits.

The first-year benefit would be worth only $80.3 million more to the state (a 2.7 percent increase) but when fully implemented in 1989-90, the changes would increase state income tax revenue by 12.9 percent, or $402.4 million more than would otherwise be collected in that year, the SFA estimated.

SFA Senior Economist Gary Olson said federal officials still have not provided data to determine whether Michigan individuals, who itemize more and are taxed higher than those in most other states, would lose or gain under the proposal.

But considering just two elements of the proposal — a 7 percent cut in federal income taxes by lower rates, higher deductions and other changes, and the repeal of deductibility of state and local taxes — Michigan individuals would pay $556 million more a year in federal income taxes, the report said.

It said that equates to an average of $158 per return.

The report noted individuals in 30 other states would gain under the combination of those elements.

Olson also said the loss of tax exemptions for state and local bonds, unless they are strictly by public agencies for public purposes, would probably doom such programs as Governor James Blanchard's strategic investment fund and industrial development bonds.

The report said the more limited volume of tax-exempt bonds should also result in a drop in interest rates on those remaining.

REPORT SHOWS STATE WORK FORCE AT NEW LOW, MINORITIES AT HIGH POINT

State classified employment reached its lowest point in the 1983-84 fiscal year since 1975-76, while the percentage of minority state workers reached its highest level ever, according to the state's annual work force report issued recently by the Department of Civil Service.

The annual average number of state employees in 1983-84 totalled 58,320, compared to the peak level of 67,246 in 1980-81.

The 1983-84 average is the lowest since 1975-76 when it stood at 57,856.

The overall decline during those years averaged 2 percent, while the state turnover rate was the state's early retirement program in 1984.

Minority employment reached 22.1 percent of total state classified employment in 1983-84, the highest level ever, compared to 20.9 percent in 1982-83 and 16.7 percent in 1975-76.

The report also showed that 12 departments and divisions had more than 16 percent minority representation, a figure targeted by the Michigan Equal Employment and Business Opportunity Council, while nine had fewer than that level.

The department with the highest concentration of minorities was Civil Rights with 59.6 percent in its work force, while the Office of Auditor General had only 6.5 percent minorities.

Males continue to be paid substantially more than females within each classification with white males topping the list at $28,180.

For other males, the average salary was $25,042 for blacks, $25,968 for Hispanics, and $24,192 for American Indians.

For females, the average was $22,177 for whites, $21,115 for American Indians, and $20,790 for Hispanics.

The state's early retirement program, which permitted state workers whose age and years of service equalled 80 years to retire early, was used by 52 percent of the 3,801 eligible personnel, the report said.

CC Playhouse to Present "Bedfull of Foreigners"

The Cherry County Playhouse is proud to present James MacArthur and June Wilkinson in Dave Freeman's English farce "A Bedfull of Foreigners", from July 23 through August 4th.

James MacArthur is best known for his role as Detective Dan Williams on the popular television series Hawaii Five-O, which was one of television's most successful series with a long run of 11 years.

James, the son of actress Helen Hayes and playwright Charles MacArthur, has appeared on numerous other television series such as The Untouchables, The Eleventh Hour, Fantasy Island, Vegas, Walking Tall, and the mini-series Alcatraz.

He has also starred in such movies as The Interns, Spencer's Mountain, Swiss Family Robinson, The Bedford Incident, The Truth About Spring, and Battle of the Bulge.

Equally impressive are the credentials of June Wilkinson. A native of England, June has taken America by storm with her talent and beauty. On her first day in America she appeared on the Today Show, and on her second day she posed for Playboy Magazine.

June has since appeared in Playboy more than any other female in history, and starred in such films as Weeds with ex-husband Dan Pastorelli, quarterback of the Philadelphia Eagles, Frankenstein's Great Aunt Tillie, and a new film which she just completed with Vince Edwards, Texas Snelson.

June debuted on Broadway as the star of Pajama Tops which catapulted her to stardom and made Pajama Tops one of the best known plays in the country. June has since starred in national touring companies of Any Tuesday, Come Blow Your Horn, and The Marriage Go-Round, and has set new box office records at every theatre in which she's performed.

Known as the "body expert" June owns nine aerobic studios throughout Canada. The laughs begin in the Cherry County Playhouse production of A Bedfull of Foreigners when June in the role of Simone, and James in the role of Stanley Parker, meet with a variety of zany characters in a bedroom at the Hotel Heinz in which they've all unknowingly been booked at the same time.

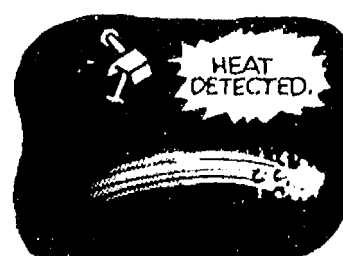

Thanks To Little League Umps - Coaches

This Tuesday was the last game of our son's Little League season. I would like to publicly thank all of the people in Grayling who made this season possible. The league officials gave their time to set up and run the season for the benefit of all the children in Grayling. The coaches, especially Ray Perez, our son's coach, who spent hours at practice and games and who had so much patience in working with the players. Many of these young players were obviously of minimal skill levels.

Finally, thank you to the umpires. These gentlemen received no pay for their work. They were recently maligned in a letter to the editor. I personally don't believe that any of the men who umpired our son's games ever intentionally favored one team over another. They went out of their way to help all the players understand the rules and play by them. They were patient and fair.

Once again, thank you to all of the dedicated people who made Little League possible this year.

Develop Management Plan For Part of AuSable

U.S. Forest Service officials are beginning to develop a management plan for 23 miles of the AuSable River in the Huron National Forest.

In October, President Reagan signed legislation to protect the AuSable under the National Wild and Scenic Rivers Act. It met requirements that the river be free-flowing and possess outstanding scenic, recreational, geologic, historic, and cultural features. In addition, this section of the AuSable from Mio Dam to the upper end of Alcona Pond has a largely undeveloped shoreline with some road access.

As a way of gathering input for the management plan, an open house is scheduled for Saturday, July 27, from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the McKinley Civic Association Hall in McKinley. Forest Service officials are urging anyone who has an interest in the AuSable River to attend or send written comments. People have voiced concerns on the lack or overload of regulations, litter, erosion problems, poor fishing access, and more.

Once finalized, the management plan will protect those features of the AuSable that made it unique enough to be designated as a National Scenic River.

The public may send their written comments on how this segment of the AuSable River should be managed to:

Forest Supervisor, Huron-Manistee National Forests, 421 S. Mitchell St., Cadillac, MI 49601.

Men of the Moose

The Flea Market was a great success thanks to all who helped and great weather. A special "thanks" to Jeanne Pearce who spent all day the 4th and 5th putting it together. Unfortunately there was bad weather on the 6th. It kind of put a damper on our beer tent, but our pig roast went well. We like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who helped all weekend. You know who you are, and without your help things wouldn't have went so well.

A couple of the officers attended a meeting in Cadillac, they found out a lot of new information on the new Moose campaign. This will be discussed at the next meeting, so please try to be there.

Just a reminder, you're all invited to help Scottie MacLeod celebrate his birthday on Saturday, July 13th at 3:00 p.m. It will be held at his home on North 27.

There will be a meeting on July 22, at 7:00 p.m. with the men and women. It was decided to hold this meeting once a month as it helps bring the lodge and chapter together.

The next District Meeting will be held in Mio on August 11, and the next regular meeting will be on July 17, at 8:00 p.m. See you there.

Pigeon River Country: The Big Wild

By Gordon Charles

The Pigeon River Country of Michigan's northern Lower Peninsula is the state's largest unspoiled wild area. It contains the biggest wild elk herd east of the Mississippi River, as well as bears, bobcats, bald eagles, and other rare or endangered wildlife.

But during the 1960s and 1970s the Pigeon River Country faced the threat of virtually uncontrolled drilling for oil and gas on state-owned land that the Department of Natural Resources had leased to the oil companies.

This book tells the story of the 12-year battle to save the Pigeon River Country from the oil companies, a battle that was successful largely due to the efforts of one man—Ford Kellum. Kellum took early retirement from his job as a DNR wildlife biologist to lead this "David and Goliath" battle against what were considered impossible odds by nearly everyone but Kellum and his army of followers—a band of individuals and conservation groups. The case went all the way to the Supreme Court, where the environmentalists finally won, and the result was the strictest drilling regulations in the nation for all parts of Michigan.

Illustrated throughout with maps and photos, this book will be of interest not only to those familiar with Pigeon River Country but to conservationists everyone.

Gordon Charles, a career outdoor writer for over 35 years, is currently Outdoor Editor of the Traverse City Record-Eagle and a freelance outdoor/travel writer. His work has won more than 20 prominent writing and photography awards, and he has several times been named Michigan's top conservation writer by the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association.

Summer Camp Offered to Blind Persons

While most people look forward to the summer months, blind persons are often excluded from participating in summertime activities.

National Camps for Blind Children and Adults, however, has changed all that.

Held annually since 1967, National Camps, a free service of the Christian Record Braille Foundation, allows the sight-impaired to experience a week of camping enjoyment and fun.

Activities at this camp held especially for the blind in the area include horseback riding, water skiing, archery, canoeing, crafts, boating and just about any other imaginable event enjoyed by sighted campers. All campers are invited to attend at no cost, compliments of Christian Record whose support comes from public contributions.

Camp AuSable in Grayling, will be held August 11-18 for blind youth in the area. Further information can be obtained by contacting Dan Paepke at (616) 636-8764 or Camp AuSable at (517) 348-5491 or the National Camps' headquarters at (402) 488-0981 in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Who Should Control the River?

In the BAY CITY TIMES July 7, Mike Spencer reported on a talk by Gaylord Alexander, a DNR biologist. Mr. Alexander pointed out that he couldn't say whether "No-Kill" would produce more fish. "The bottom line is that on one extreme you can have a low size limit (7-inch) and a population that is turning over rapidly, with "No-Kill" where you stockpile old, larger fish the production in terms of growth per year in terms of population will be somewhat lower."

In THE DETROIT NEWS July 7, Dave Richey reports that Dr. Ray White, a Trout Unlimited advisor, doesn't know of any Michigan river he'd recommend for "No-Kill". In the same article, Dr. Robert Behnke, a leading trout authority, states that "Environmental Quality is the key to flourishing trout populations and special regulations are meaningless without a proper trout environment."

Tom Opre, in the DETROIT FREE PRESS on May 10 and in the CRAWFORD COUNTY AVALANCHE on July 11, says, in effect, don't bother us with the opinions of respected and experienced scientists, we in Detroit, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois know what is good for you poor and unwashed taxpayers in Crawford County, Grayling Township and Grayling.

We will discuss preserving with a difference; and this will be in two parts. I will be quoting mostly from "Putting Food By", by Hertzberg, Vaughan, & Green. I highly recommend this book for those of you who can freeze, pickle, dry, cure, or preserve your own food.

There are three acids used in freezing and canning: ascorbic acid, citric acid, and lemon juice. Vinegar is used in pickling, but rarely in anything else because of its distorting flavors of food. Lemon juice is used because it contains both citric and ascorbic acids, but the least effective as well as imparting its own flavor to the food. Citric acid works well in preserving but is very expensive, and more of it is needed than ascorbic acid. This brings us to the most widely used preservative - Vitamin C.

Ascorbic acid is Vitamin C. The commercial form - the most popular being Fruit Fresh - is combined with citric acid and sugar making it more expensive than pure ascorbic acid.

Ascorbic acid is usually available in most drugstores and health food stores in crystals - which is what I use - or tablets. Purchased by weight about 1 ounce of the crystalline form will give roughly 40 1/4 tps or 20 1/2 tps (these being the most common amounts called for in freezing and canning). It takes 3,000 milligrams (mg) worth of ascorbic acid tablets to equal 1 tsp of the crystalline form. Crush the tablets and dissolve in a little water. You have to remember that crystals alone will not form a tablet, so a base must be added to Vitamin C to form the tablets, which is why it takes a lot of tablets to equal the same amount in crystals.

Next week there will be instructions and a recipe for fish. Aren't I the devil, though. Any questions contact me at 517/348-8727 or come on out to Cerelli's Herb Farm.

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

213 Take GED Testing at Kirtland During 1984

Kirtland Community College's GED Testing Center served 213 persons during 1984. Of that number, 134 completed the battery of five tests required for the Certificate of High School Equivalency for the first time in 1984, four were retested, and 75 had not yet taken all the tests in the battery. These statistics were included in the recently published 1984 GED Statistical Report on GED Testing Centers in the U.S. and Canada. The Report states that during 1984, 706,181 people took the GED tests. As a result of testing conducted at more than 3,300 testing locations, 469,157 examinees earned scores that qualified them for an equivalency credential. Approximately 75% of the examinees who completed the test battery in 1984 earned scores sufficient to qualify for the equivalency credential awarded by their state, territory, or province. Departments and ministries of education in the United States and Canada awarded 444,388 credentials based on GED Testing.

The average age of 1984 examinees was 25.8 years. Approximately 31% of the examinees were 19 or younger, while about 10% were 40 or older. About one-half of the GED examinees reported that they were planning to continue their education or training beyond the high school level. Examinees tested during 1984 completed an average of 9.8 years of schooling.

Since 1971, the GED testing program has enabled more than five million adults to obtain formal recognition of their educational development through their attainment of a high school equivalency credential. These credentials continue to be accepted by more than 90% of the colleges and universities and by most employers to satisfy requirements for a secondary level credential.

Kirtland's Testing Center serves Camps Nokomis and Shawono and operates for the general public on most Friday afternoons. For details, call 275-5121, extension 280.

Wednesday morning league - please sign up for Gaylord Day, if you have not already done so, by this Sunday, July 21. The Gaylord Ladies will be coming on Wednesday, July 24, and the committee needs a correct count.

Welcome to Corrine Smith, back in the league and coming in with low of 43 while Babe Aderente had net of 33 and Carole Thompson dropped in only 11 putts. Donna Pottorff birdied # 3 and Babe chipped in on # 1, Evie Kent on # 3 and Carole on # 9. Mabel Gothro won the score card poker hand. In Flight B, Jeanne Thompson copped all the prizes with a low of 47, net of 29 and putts of 15. Marti Nowak won the poker hand. In Flight C, Elsie Jansen again took low of 60 and net of 40 while Faith Stripe dropped in only 15 putts. Marj Smith chipped in on # 2 as did Shirley Schonehoff on # 1 while Evelyn Sager won the poker hand.

A hot July Sunday did not keep the avid golfers from enjoying a round of Scrambles on July 14 at the Grayling Country Club Sunday party.

Winners were the team of Crawford and Pottorff with 37, McLaughlin and Hartman with 38, and Raab and Bagrosky with a 39. There was a five-way tie for 39 and the above team won the draw. Thelma Bateman had the longest drive on # 5, Leo Bagrosky was closest to the pin on # 8 and Mark Hartman had the longest putt on # 9.

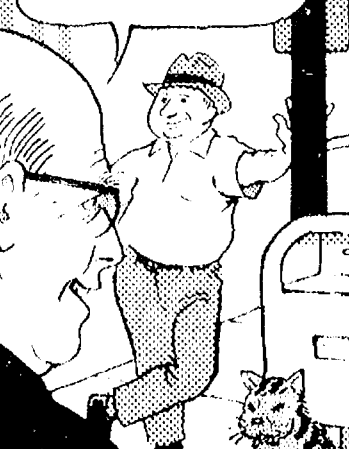

Following golf and the cocktail hour everyone grilled their meat and with it enjoyed potato salad, beans, relishes, garlic bread and pie which was prepared by the club staff.

Door prizes were awarded and a drawing was held. Bill and Marian Joseph and Dick and Ann DuBois hosted the party.

The next Sunday party will be held on August 4. Watch for the sign-up!

MY BROTHER MADE A SCARECROW THAT WAS SO SCARY THE CROWS BROUGHT BACK SOME OF THE CORN THEY STOLE LAST YEAR!

If you loved the Young American's 1982 Grayling performances and last fall's Revue, "Four By Four and More," you must see "If Only They Would Let Us," coming to the Joseph Stripe Auditorium this Saturday, July 20, at 8:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Crawford County Arts Council, this year's Broadway Revue welcomes the same talented group of professional performers from the Grand Rapids stage as last year's show:

Jean Reed Bahle has had leading roles in "Sound of Music," "Oh, Coward," "Side by Side" by Sondheim; "On Golden Pond," "All the Way Home," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Cyrano de Bergerac." Jean is a member of Actor's Workshop and a free lance writer. Her first play, "Ceilings," will be presented in Grand Rapids this summer.

Kirk Swenk is comfortable on both sides of the footlights. As an actor, he was recently featured in "They're Playing Our Song" at GR's Civic Theatre. He has done more than 100 other roles in his career, including John in "Fifth of July" and Harold in "Father's Day." Kirk is senior copy writer for Johnson and Dean, a board member of Actor's Theatre, and a charter member of Actor's Workshop.

Mary Gamble Hyatt brightened the stage of Actor's Theatre in "Starting Here, Starting Now," "Side by Side" by Sondheim, and "The Apple Tree." Other area theatre performances have included "Brigadoon" and "The Boys from Syracuse." Mary has a bachelor's degree in music education, is the mother of two, and works with her husband as a scenic artist in John S. Hyatt & Associates and at Downtown Books.

Kim McLeod joins the trio for this season's performance. He is described as a man with a big voice and lots of experience on the musical stage, having appeared in both operas and musicals in Grand Rapids and Lansing.

On Saturday evening, Jean, Kirk, Mary and Kim team up with pianist Stephanie LeTourneau, as their accompanist. Together they will create performances full of melody, comedy and lively entertainment in the brassy style of Broadway.

Tickets are available this week at Flowers by Josie and Main Street Florals in Grayling. Pre-performance price is $3.00 for adults; and $2.00 for senior citizens and students. Adult price at the door is $4.00.

Patronages are available to individuals, groups, and businesses, for a donation of $25. The donor receives two tickets to the Revue (and two to "Baroque and Beyond," coming in September), and his or her name in the program. Call Susan Boehner (348-8218) to arrange for a patronage.

Funds generated from this event go to further promote and support the arts in Crawford County. The Arts Council serves in many ways, from the administration of the local dance program, sponsorship of performances in the schools, provision of hundreds of dollars in scholarships, to the publication of an arts newsletter. The CCAC focuses on people of all ages, from pre-school age to senior citizens.

"If Only They Would Let Us" is promoted by the Midwest Lyceum, a division of Windoes Travelogues, whose programs Grayling residents have been enjoying for years. It is presented with the partial support of the Michigan Council of the Arts.

serve for now and the future a relatively short section for the ardent fly fishermen who need only the challenge and thrill of landing a big fish. It assures anglers fishing in May that the trout are still in the river to be caught again in June or even September," he said.

"Reserving a short section of the AuSable will quickly make Grayling a Mecca for those sportsmen who gladly return their catch to the river to be caught again," said Gates.

Chuck McDonald, president of the Paul Young chapter of Trout Unlimited, told the NRC he wished to echo Gates' statements and he said the data indicates catch and release will be an improvement for the fishery.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

I recently found the following clipping from a newspaper. I don't know who penned it, but I would like to meet the person. It may not have much to do with natural resources, but I would like to share it with you:

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a little better place than we found it, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded."

Par For The Course

Thirty-eight members of the Monday night Ladies Golf League played on July 15, 1985 and enjoyed a delicious chicken salad dinner with fresh fruit and hot rolls.

Prizes were awarded to Laura Schans, Marilyn Hartman, Jo Gosling, Janet Karchon, Jo Clingsmith, Evelyn McIntosh and Thelma Madsen.

Chamber Chatter

By Terry Wright

As the excitement mounts for the upcoming Milltown Festival I would like to thank those from our community who have given the long hours of personal time that will make this year's festival a success. Foremost in this group is Col. Ivan Gwilt, this year's Milltown Committee Chairman. During his busiest time of the year Col. Gwilt has willingly given of himself above and beyond the call of duty to lead the Chamber's effort in promoting our area. We all owe him a debt of gratitude.

In the past two weeks, four new businesses have opened their doors in the Grayling area. We welcome and wish much success to: Sylvester's, Annie B's, The Irishman's Shanty and Jellystone Park.

It may come as a bit of a surprise to the communities of Frederic and Lovells, but I consider them a vital part of our area. We promote them whenever possible now, and I am determined that those efforts will increase in the near future. I am always available to hear their suggestions as to how I may improve our services to them.

While on the promotional line I would like to remind everyone of the upcoming performance of "If Only They Would Let Us", sponsored by the Crawford County Arts Council, on July 20th at 8:00 p.m. at the High School.

The Courage To Seek

From the beginning, men have sought the sea, venturing out in crafts that were sometimes pitifully small. Some have made their voyages successfully, others have been lost. All over the world there are monuments to those who had the courage to seek the sea, and yet lost their battle with her.

The sea, the sky, the stars, the galaxies... they all have a vastness hard to understand. And sometimes it seems to be that way about the Church and religion, too. There are questions that can never really be answered, mysteries that can never be fully understood. We go into church, and almost despite ourselves we feel an awe and a reverence, and don't quite know why.

Maybe we should just accept it... as we do the sea and the sky and the stars. Maybe we should give faith the chance to make its own transformation, as we voyage on through life.

Bike-a-Thon In Frederic

The Central Regional Office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Chief Al Leng Frederic Fire Dept. has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Frederic.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict our children. St. Jude Hospital is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, and provides total medical care to over 4,200 patients.

At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only a better means of treatment, but also the causes, cures and prevention of these terrible killers.

All findings and information gained at the hospital are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, sickle-cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime". Jaime is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well. Jaime is a living example of the progress and success of the research, patient care, and educational programs of this internationally recognized hospital.

We sincerely appreciate the concern that Chief Leng Frederic Fire Dept. has for our work and we hope the citizens of Frederic will support the Bike-a-Thon this fall to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... "Our Children."

Dear Whitey,
 "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." That bit of homespun philosophy suggests a useful approach to the no-kill proposal for the AuSable mainstream. The fishery here "ain't broke" — witness the crowds of fishermen who travel great distances to populate our river each season — so it seems unnecessary, even unwise, to "fix" it by such an extreme measure as no-kill regulations.

No doubt there are rivers which cry out for a no-kill solution to revive an ailing fishery or to maintain a marginal one, but the "holy water" is not an example. Under the present regulations the fishing has been good enough, is good enough, and likely will continue to be good enough to attract thousands of tourists and local fishermen each season. To tamper with this success in order to cater to the preferences of a subgroup of the fishing population is high-handed and ill-advised and would represent a further intrusion of governmental regulation on personal choices where no need exists.

The no-kill issue divides the interested parties into different camps: tourist versus local, and elitist (read wealthy) versus the common man. The no-kill proposal does appear to be an attempt by the wealthy and influential to exploit their better access to the mechanisms of power (media, conservation organizations, state bureaucracy) to impose an experiment and a philosophy on "the masses," and ultimately further displacing many local fishermen in preference for a greater number of affluent tourist fishermen. This would benefit some local cash registers but would be unfortunate in most of its non-economic impact on our community and local culture.

Finally, the worst argument the no-kill advocates advance in support of their proposal is that it will make the AuSable even more popular than it is now. The river and the quality of fishing experience on it is already a victim of too much popularity; as most fishermen here can attest; to encourage further popularity is self defeating. If no-kill truly does promote a river's popularity let them use it on rivers which can afford, and benefit from, the extra attention.

Sincerely,
 David Lemmen
